A centre looked after by a volunteer and his assistant (without state aids) in which turtles are grown as soon as the eggs open, and then freed a few years later.

This way the species is preserved and the turtles can avoid extinction.

During holidays in a rented sailing boat in the Grenadines and Antilles, this is an absolute destination prior to reach
Tobago Cays
, where you can swim with the turtles, also thanks to the commitment of people like Orton G. King.
