

The bay is big and should be accessed during the day due to the presence of rocks, especially in the North-western part.

An elegant resort in neo-colonial style faces the beach, but the bar and the club for diving and various underwater activities are available to tourists.

In the village, there are few small grocery stores and restaurants that offer specialties of the local cuisine. The beach is extremely inviting thanks to its white sand.