

The inlet takes the name after the main city, where each rented catamaran sailing in the Grenadines must stop to do customs; access depends on the weather conditions.

The typical regattas that constitute one of the attractions of the island depart from here