

The Pain de Sucre is made of basaltic rocks and dominates a very tight bay, at the bottom of which one can shore on a little sandy beach.

Maybe for the sea bed and the colour of the sand, it is one of the most suggesting points of the archipelago..