Candid sands, palms mangroves, and clear waters are maybe the most representative icon of the West Indies and for this reason the place is much visited.

As well known by “boat boys" who always search for tourists to accompany.